Dynamic flexible and iconic... Closer is the new showerhead that reinvents the movements we associate with showering.

Closer distances itself from the usual formal references instead offering a truly original creative and functional reimagining of the shower column. It recalls the aesthetics of a lamp and embraces all the poetics inherent to the idea of free movement in space.

Designer Diego Grandi's starting point was an aim to bring the normally static bathroom space to life through an object with strong expressive potential and plenty of scope for dynamism.
